

SHIPPERS OF LAKE
COAL CONSIDERING
NEW PAYMENT RULE

As Protection Against the Rejection of Practice of Fuel Brokers.

SUFFER HEAVY LOSSES

By Having Cars Refused on Transient Claims of "Poor Quality" Whenever the Market Edges Off a Tilt; Pay on Receipt of Invoice.

A movement is on foot among the coal operators of the Connellsville and neighboring districts who ship at least a part of their product to the Lake ports, to enforce a new rule with respect to payment by brokers on whose orders the shipments are made. Instead of the present method of permitting settlements to be carried over to the 20th of the month for all coal shipped during the preceding month, it is proposed that settlement be required to be made promptly upon receipt of invoice which will be forwarded immediately upon receipt of our weights from the railroad scales. It is proposed to make this change in the method of settlement as a measure of defense against a custom, or abuse rather, which has developed in connection with shipments which arrive at destination when market or price conditions are less favorable from a selling point of view than when the coal was ordered.

It is a fact well known in the coal trade that so long as the price is on the upward trend, or is holding a firm level, shipments are received and settled for without question or complaint. The minute the tendency is toward a reduction in price, or a slight accumulation of loads at the Lake ports takes place, the brokers, refusing to take any risk of a possible loss, reject cars shipped in good faith, and invariably decline to receive them on the score of alleged "poor quality." This excuse is so transparent that no shipper is fooled by it. He knows that the broker is simply "passing the buck," or "getting from under" on a declining market, instead of sharing with the shipper any part of the loss sustained.

When cars are so rejected it is up to the consignee to make disposition of them. As long as he can, he resorts to the telegraph or long distance telephone to find a buyer at a point as close as possible to the port at which his coal has been rejected. Frequently this is not possible to be done and only by diligent search can he find a buyer at some other point. This necessitates re-shipment, the payment of freight charges, and the demurrage. When coal is sold under such conditions the buyer realizes the predicament of the seller and makes his own price which, of course, is a bargain price and much less than that at which the coal was originally sold to the broker.

It sometimes happens that persons on the ground, or through connection with brokers, learn of coal being rejected. They get in communication with the shipper and offer to take it off his hands at a nominal price. Rather than take the risk of still further loss the shipper sells the coal. An instance of this occurred recently in connection with some coal of excellent quality which a Connellsville region shipper had sold at $12.25 a ton. Shipments went along swimmingly so long as there was no drop in the price and coal was being taken away from the port of destination without accumulations piling up. No complaint as to quality was received and the shipper felt satisfied that he had made a good deal. Out of the clear sky one day came notice that such and such number of cars had been condemned on account of quality. The next day a consumer at the same point communicated with the shipper stating the "he understood" some coal had been rejected. Having been advised, previously used some of this coal, he eagerly proposed to take the rejected cars off the shipper's hands and to pay for the same at the rate of $11.75 per ton. "You will pay for each car just as soon as the weight is received and invoice rendered covering the shipment. The sentiment favoring such action is growing among shippers and it is highly probable that it will crystallize in action of this kind being taken by the operators who make sales for delivery at the Lake ports.

Two Girls, Three Boys Die
When Train Hits Their AutoMRS. HALL AND BROTHER NAMED
IN MURDER CASE

By Associated Press.
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 27.—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the slain rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist, and her brother, Henry Stevens, are the man and woman named in a sworn statement of Mrs. Jane Gibson, self-styled eye-witness of the double slaying of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, on the night of September 14, last.

This announcement was not made by the authorities, but became known last night through the issuance of a statement by Mrs. Hall's attorney, Timothy N. Pfeiffer, denying the facts of Mrs. Gibson's account and declaring that neither the rector's widow nor her brother were on the Phillips farm on the night of the double slaying. "Mrs. Gibson's statements are contrary to the facts," Mr. Pfeiffer said. "Mrs. Hall was in her home all evening. Barbara Hough, one of the maids, was out that night and Louise Geist, the other maid, was in the back stoop. There was no one else but a little seven-year-old niece in the house with Mrs. Hall. But there may have been one visitor."

"Henry Stevens' identification as one of the quartet seen on the farm is also contrary to fact. Henry was at Lavalville, N. J., all that night."

NEW BRUNSWICK, Oct. 27.—The story of Mrs. Jane Gibson, pig rancher, that she had identified a man and woman present when Rev. Edward Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were slain on Phillips farm last month today was being tested by Deputy Attorney General Mott.

Mrs. Gibson, accompanied by a county detective, arrived at the court house and it was understood that Mr. Mott intended to go over her tale with her point by point.

Mr. Mott indicated today he was not ready to accept without a careful re-checking the alibi established by the man named by Mrs. Gibson as having been present when the double shooting occurred. This alibi, county investigators declared, previously had been regarded as corroborated.

ANOTHER PEACE CONFERENCE IS PROPOSED BY GARY

Head of Steel Corporation Would Invite Leading Powers of World.

Cancellation of Europe's Debts Opposed; Transportation Only Bar to Great Prosperity in Iron and Steel Industry, Halted by Strike of Miners

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Another international peace conference in Washington for the full and frank discussion of all unsettled financial, commercial and industrial questions, which the United States is interested in, was suggested by Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, in a speech today at the semi-annual meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute, of which he is president. Such a conference, he said, should be participated in by a full, open-minded representation from the nations such as those which appeared at the recent limitation of arms conference.

A modification of Europe's war debts to the United States was opposed by the speaker. The debts, he said, were voluntarily, openly and fairly contracted and cannot be cancelled or disposed of on any other basis. There are no obstacles to continued prosperity in the iron and steel business in the United States, the speaker asserted, except that which may arise from interference with the course of supply and demand.

Touching on the recent coal and rail strike he said that if the natural course of business had not been interrupted the iron and steel industry would now be enjoying success and prosperity greater than ever before, so far as volume is concerned.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCT. 27, 1934

LET EVERYBODY SEE THE FUN.

The regulations adopted for the government of observers of the Hallowe'en parade this evening, by which they will be required to either join in the parade or remain on the sidewalks, are very reasonable and proper.

It has been the experience during previous celebrations of Halloween, and also of virtually all parades on the city's streets, that bystanders crowd out into the street so numerously and to such a distance that barely enough space is left in the center of the street for the parade to pass through. This practice is highly objectionable in that it spoils the general effect and purpose of a parade.

In the case of the parade tonight its purpose is to provide a fun-making spectacle in which the youngsters, young and old, are the fun-makers.
Vastly more enjoyment will be derived from the display if all persons who "dress up" for the occasion join in the line of march. The staid and older folks will be on hand in such numbers that they will need all the sidewalk space, especially in the downtown sections, from which to view the parade. The youngsters ought, therefore, to be considerate enough of the spectators to not only afford them every facility for witnessing the whole company of marchers, but also give them the benefit of seeing all the celebrants take places in the parade formation.

The marchers have spent a lot of energy in arranging the details of the celebration. They are anxious that everybody be given opportunity to see all the features without inconvenience or discomfort. This will be possible if the marchers fall in with the spirit of the occasion and make the parade quite the biggest of the kind ever held, instead of massing themselves along both sides of the street so that only part of the people can see the fun.

Republicans be on your guard against the wiles of the Democratic candidates who are soliciting "complimentary" votes. They count just as much toward electing the person complimented and tend by that much to defeat the Republican nominee.
Moreover, Democrats are rarely known to have did of enlargement of the heart resulting from exertion in giving "complimentary" votes to Republican candidates.

The marchers must not mass up the parade tonight by massing themselves clear out into the middle of the streets.

There will remain doubt as to whether the objections to the modern public dance can be overcome by merely making it an invitation affair.
Such a course may invite a new lot of objections but the same dancers.

Better fire protection pays by saving money on insurance rates.

The best "compliment" you can pay a good Democratic candidate is to give your "complimentary" vote to a better Republican candidate.

Give the paraders plenty of elbow room tonight and you will have better chance to see and to laugh.

If you have not already done so begin now to cancel all engagements that will take you away from home on Sunday afternoon in order that you may extend a cordial greeting to the members of the Salvation Army Home Service Budget team. They won't bores you with a long visit but will bear away with them a good impression if you give them the right kind of an expression of your sympathy and interest in the cause they represent.

"Democratic Ticket Making Gains Daily", as a headline in a Democratic contemporary states it, is true only in respect to the gains the Republican ticket is making by the decision of Democrats to support it.

What is the money value of a wife's work?

A western widower, forced to rear his three children without the help of his partner (his wife), kept a careful record of housekeeping costs. His record shows this: His wife's former management was one-third less costly than that of a competent hired housekeeper.

Yet some men still appreciate too little the great savings effected by woman's constant search for small economies—such welcome saving, for example, as that offered by Brednut—the delicious new spread for bread.

Made only from pasteurized milk and tropical nuts, Brednut has a delicious, fresh flavor. Your husband and children will notice no "difference."

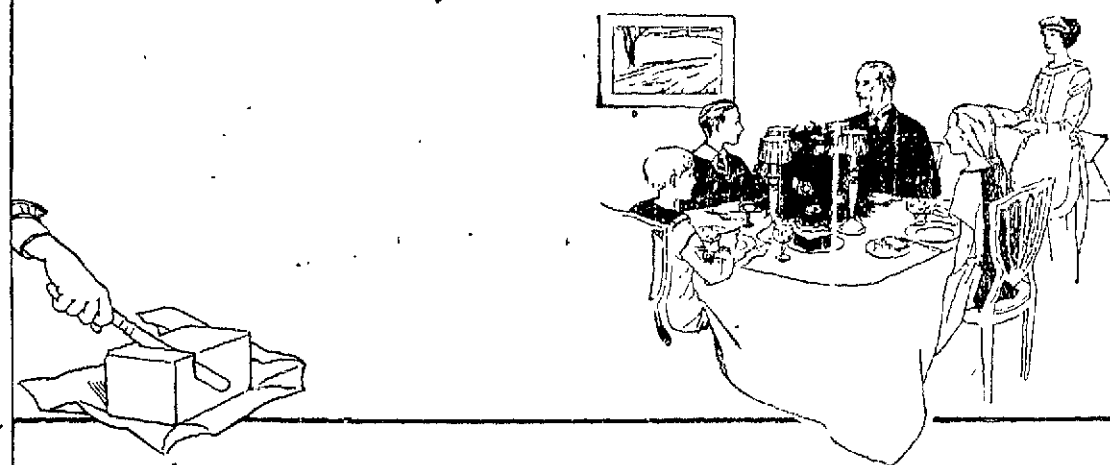

Pasteurized milk! Tropical nuts! A delicious new home economy!

When you see them enjoying healthful Brednut as a spread for bread, rolls and biscuits, remember that such foods are digestible and nourishing. Bulletins of the U. S. Department of Agriculture so state.

Yes, Brednut comes to you uncolored—a pure white. With wholesome vegetable material (gratis from your grocer) you can quickly color Brednut to a rich golden yellow.

Wholesome and Delicious! This Brednut Raisin and Apple Sandwich

Chop together equal parts of raisins, apples and nuts and mix in with mayonnaise. Spread the mixture on lettuce leaves between two slices of bread spread with Brednut. In this healthful sandwich notice especially the delicate freshness of the Brednut flavor.

Scottdale School Girl Wins Prize for Essay on Need of Hospital for Tuberculars

GREINSBURG, Oct. 27.—Dorothy Trimbach, Grade 8, Scottdale, has won the first prize of $5 awarded in District No. 5 for the best essay on "Why Westmoreland Needs a Tuberculosis Hospital."

L. E. Runbaugh and D. P. Davis, supervising principals of Mount Pleasant and East Huntingdon township schools respectively acted as judges in this district. The Trimbach essay was the best of the 100 essays of the county. Superintendent C. E. Miller of the Westmoreland public schools is the county chairman for the contest. The prize essay of Dorothy Trimbach follows:

You, who profess to be as interested in the welfare of your neighbor as you are of why is there need to hasten with construction of an offering which will prove a boon to suffering humanity.

A few dollars from those who can afford it will mean little to them but a great deal to those benighted statistics show that every three minutes one precious human life is swept away by this dread disease. Is it to continue?

This is a war. One enemy is the tuberculosis disease, tuberculosis is a scourge. It is the enemy of a human life. It is a disease that attacks sun, air, food and rest may gain supremacy over the weakened bodies of the victims. Then too, the best way to save yourself is to save your neighbor.

When reading the statistics of tuberculosis cases, we do not realize the grief which is felt at the loss of a single dear one. You may therefore shudder at the concentrated anguish represented by these cold figures. For lack of a bed, a life was lost. Not merely one, but thousands. Half of the annual expenditures for unnecessary luxuries would eliminate this shameful fact, and be converted into ammunition to fight many millions of germs. The benefit derived from the rescued ones to the community would in itself be ample compensation to those who had enlisted on the work of sanitation.

There are many, while not guilty legally, but morally guilty, are responsible for a train of suffering and death, who carelessly, deliberately, let their selfish interest spoil the path of persons unable to withstand its contents.

An appeal is, therefore, directed to all voting citizens of the county of Westmoreland to do their bit to establish a refuge for unfortunate victims and to help check the great white menace which is now threatening the people. The best way to save yourself and your life is to save your suffering neighbor.

Decline in Prices for Coke Continues But at Much Less Rapid Rate Than Last Week

Furnace Decrease $1.00 to $1.50 Against $3.00 Drop Ten Days Ago.

MORE DISPOSITION TO BUY

As Being Shown by Furnacemen Who Are Willing to Pay Motor Fuel Than for Small Lots; But Prices in Region of Adjustment

Special to the Weekly Courier. PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—As coke gets farther from the furnace price it declines more slowly. The drop in furnace coke from $12 to $10 this week, the price a week ago, was rapid. In the past week the decline has been only $1.00 to $1.50, the market now being quotable at $7.50 to $8.00.

The first softening in price after several weeks of a very firm market, naturally caused buyers to desire to defer purchases as much as possible in order to get the greatest benefit from the decline. And this has caused volume of buying, naturally, to be small. Prices to be paid for coke in the furnace are expected to be about $1.00 to $1.50, the price of coke in the furnace being about $1.00 to $1.50.

Furnacemen are now showing more disposition to buy than a week ago as the decline in price is not so rapid. It is expected that the price of coke in the furnace will be about $1.00 to $1.50, the price of coke in the furnace being about $1.00 to $1.50.

Foundry coke has softened a trifle in the past week, not falling more than $1.00 to $1.50. The price of foundry coke is now about $1.00 to $1.50, the price of foundry coke being about $1.00 to $1.50.

variation in the foundry pig iron market. It is probable that foundries are using considerable large percentages of scrap than usual in their operations. The spot and prompt market is now quotable as follows:

Some of the coke operators having gotten their plants into the running stage, although the plants are still far from a full operation are offering to make contracts with furnaces to the end of the year. But it is doubtful if this has been accomplished along this line.

While current pig iron prices are expected to be about $1.00 to $1.50, the price of pig iron being about $1.00 to $1.50.

How little they cost is a matter you probably seldom think about, because they do, so well, all the things you expect a good glove to do. You just know that they are always going to look right and feel right.

You can tell by the way Kayser Chamoisette feels when you touch it that it is a material of "exceedingly good quality. You enjoy that sensation of fine fitting that there is in any glove made by Kayser. That's one of the things you like most about Kayser Chamoisette Gloves—the colored fitting. They are cut with a broadness, or, one might say, a fullness that makes putting them on or taking them off as natural and graceful as one of your gestures or mannerisms.

And washing—there's a thing that makes Kayser Chamoisette Gloves the most practical gloves in the world—just a few moments and they look like new! You can have fresh gloves every time you go out, and no trouble or expense ending them to the cleaner's.

98 Out of Every 100 Women Benefited

An Absolutely Reliable Statement Important to Every Woman

Remarkable Results Shown by a Nation Wide Canvass of Women Purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 50,000 Women Answer

For some time a circular has been enclosed with each bottle of our medicine bearing this question: "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

Replies, to date, have been received from over 50,000 women answering this question.

93 per cent of which say YES. That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take the medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This is a most remarkable record of efficiency. We doubt if any other medicine in the world equals it.

Think of it—only two women out of 100 received no benefit—98 successes out of a possible 100. Did you ever hear of anything like that? We must admit that we, ourselves, are astonished.

Of course we know that our medicine does benefit the large majority of women who take it. But that only two out of 100 received no benefit is most astonishing.

It only goes to prove, however, that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments—not a cure-all—on that is made by the most scientific process; not from drug, but from a combination of nature's roots and herbs, can and does do more good than a truly prepared prescription.

You see, we have been making, improving and refining this medicine for over 50 years until it is so perfect and so well adapted to women's needs that it actually has the virtue to benefit 98 out of every 100 women who take it.

It's reliability and recognized efficiency has gained for it a sale in almost every country in the world—leaving all others.

Such evidence should induce every woman suffering from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see if she can't be one of the 98 THE LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., Lynn, Mass.

COPYRIGHT 1923 HARPER AND BROTHERS.

"Come on, Dick!"
Ladd led the way down the slope until he reached a position that commanded the rising of the trail from a level. It was the only place a man or horse could leave the valley for the pass.

"Dick, here's your stand. If any rider rides in range take a crack at him. Now I want the lead of your horse."

"Blanco Sol!" exclaimed Gale, more

"Dick, here's your stand. If any rider rides in range take a crack at him."

In answer that Ladd should ask for the horse than in reluctance to lend him "Will you let me have him?" Ladd repeated almost curtly.

"Certainly, Ladd."

A smile momentarily chased the dark cloud from Ladd's face as he saw the rider's lean form.

"Now I appreciate it, Dick. I know how you care for that horse. I guess he's the best you've ever had."

"You will not tell him, my plan. Sol won't get a scratch. You can gamble on that. I'll ride him down into the valley and pull the trigger out into the open. They've got short-ranged rifles. They can't keep out of range of the shot. If he's in the dust of the trail, they'll hit him. Sol will run them down when I want. Can you beat it?"

"No, it's great!" But suppose a rider comes out on Blanco Diablo?"

"I reckon that's the one with price in my plan. But if they do well, Sol can outrun Diablo. An I can always kill the other one."

Ladd's tongue hung out of his mouth as he looked at the horse. The words in his mind were "and grin set lips."

Gale's hand went swiftly to the rider's shoulder.

"Ladd, don't kill Blanco unless it's to save your life."

"All right. But I got it. I got a chance. I'll make a Blanco Sol out of his leg."

He spoke no more and sat about chanting the length of Sol's stirrups.

"I'm adjusted to suit. He mounted and rode down the trail and out upon the level. He rode down as if he were going to water his horse. The long black rifle lying across his saddle however was on his hip."

Gale saw that the other horse was a mesquite at hand and took a position behind a low rock, one which he could easily see and shoot when necessary. Ladd rode a quarter of a mile out upon the flat before anything happened. Then a white dust trail still cold air. A horse and rider or Blanco Sol. The white dust was prolonged, faint but clear. It made the blood throb in Gale's veins. Sol halted. His hand shot up with the old wild-spirited sweep. Gale leveled his glass at the patch of mesquites. He saw the riders running to an open place, pointing, gesticulating. Then he got out white and dark gleams of moving bodies. Ladd's hand that moment was one of bolts and saddles for the riders.

Then Gale saw a rider gallop swiftly from the group toward the outlet of the valley. This might have been owing to characteristic cowardice, but it was more likely a move of the riders to make sure of retreat. Undoubtedly Ladd saw this galloping horseman. A few waiting moments ensued. The galloping horseman reached the slope beyond to climb. With quick eyes Gale saw a puff of white smoke spring out of the rocks. Then the rider wheeled his plunging horse back to the level and went racing wildly down the valley.

The compact bunch of boys and blacks seemed to break apart and spread rapidly from the edge of the mesquites. Puffs of white smoke indicated firing and showed the nature of the riders' excitement. They were far out of ordinary range, but they spurred toward Ladd shooting as they rode.

The riders' bullets, striking low, were skipping along the hard bare floor of the valley. Then Ladd raised the long rifle. There was no smoke but three high spanging reports rang out. A gap opened in the dark line of advancing horsemen.

Then a riderless steed sheered off to the right. Blanco Sol seemed to turn as on a pivot and charged back toward the lower end of the valley. He circled over to Gale's right and stretched out into his run. There were now five riders in pursuit and they came sweeping down yelling and shooting. Ladd reserved his fire. He kept turning from back to front in his saddle.

WASH THE KIDNEYS IF THEY BOTHER YOU

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

Flush your kidneys with salts occasionally. As a noted authority who tells us that too much meat and rich food may form in the blood which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood, they become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back, or a headache.

Your stomach, sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad, you have rheumatic twinges, the urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the kidneys often get sore and irritated, and you are obliged to urinate two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize the irritating acids to remove the uric acid, and wash off the body's poisonous waste, get four ounces of Dr. S. S. from any pharmacy, here, take a tablespoonful of it, a few times a day before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

The famous salts is a rare from the acid grapes and lemon juice used for, opens up the flush and stimulate the kidney, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer irritates thus often ending in bladder weakness.

Dr. S. S. is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent little water drink. Advertisement.

The Face in the Mirror.

Your face does it. We're the center of attention of good health or are the features drawn in pallid? In the latter case, your story is read by all who see you. And what woman (or man) wants to be pallid? For her physical condition? There is a way in getting the nervous, tired lines out of your face and the slump out of your body. The use of that standard remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, will set your nerves and tone up the system to resist that excessive fatigue.
